Six Nations Vow French Support Against Invasion

Hitler Receives Ovations at Soldier's Tomb and in Opera House; Nation "Sovereignty" Renewed; Troops to Stay in Rhineland

Britain, Belgium, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy and Russia Pledge Efforts to Block War

European statesmen faced today a week which may decide whether there is going to be another great war.

While the British cabinet met and Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden prepared to make a speech on government policy in the House of Commons, France received assurances of support in any crisis from Italy, Poland and the Little Entente.

French frontier forces are greatly strengthened. Germany followed up its violation of the treaty clauses forbidding militarization of the Rhineland by incorporating all state police in the Rhineland into the army.

German troops continued to pour into the area and it was estimated that 45,000 in all were there.

It was indicated officially that Germany would refuse an invitation to attend Friday's meeting of the league council on the crisis, taking the ground that legally she must be invited formally after the council is in session.

PARIS—France receives assurance of Italian and Polish aid as army faces Germany on frontier; reservists may be called.

LONDON—Cabinet meets in most important session in years; Eden to address Commons this afternoon.

GENEVA—League council takes up crisis Friday; Ready for momentous week.

ROME—Italy pledges support to France; Sharply curtailing Ethiopian activity; Deputies meet to approve largest military appropriation since 1918.

BERLIN—Army, grateful to Hitler, ready; Foreign office watches French, league maneuvers.

FRENCH AND GERMAN RHINELAND CITIES—Forty-five thousand German soldiers in Rhineland; French cut Rhine pontoon bridges; Great Maginot chain of forts fully manned.

Copyright 1936 By United Press
BERLIN, March 9.—(UP)—German officialdom expressed contemptuous indifference today to the united international front developing against remilitarization of the Rhineland. They devoted themselves to obtaining a decisive public endorsement in a March 29 plebiscite.

Unofficial but well informed sources said it was "impossible" that Germany would withdraw the troops that junked the Locarno treaty Saturday by invading the demilitarized Rhineland.

Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler went calmly to Berchtesgaden on a night train for a rest preparatory to the rigors of an election campaign.

Commentators close to him scoffed at reports that Italy had pledged unlimited aid to France to force German troops out of the Rhineland. They regarded the promise as an obvious political move designed to "sugar coat the pill" that Italy intends to force France and Great Britain to take action in regard to Ethiopia at Geneva.

It conspicuously would be to Italy's advantage, they pointed out, to be considered a potential French ally while the league committee of 13 discusses Italian reservations to Ethiopian peace proposals this week.

No official would comment for publication on the oral support given France by Great Britain, Belgium, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy and Russia, but public opinion was undisputedly behind Hitler.

The Fuehrer received impressive ovations twice yesterday—when he placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in observance of Heroes day, and at the State Opera house, where Gen. Werner von Blomberg, minister of war, hailed him for restoring Germany "to sovereignty."

Rigid and unsmiling in his blue army uniform, Hitler sat dramatically in the Opera House's central box between old Field Marshal von Mackensen, grim faced under the death's head helmet of the Kaiser's Hussars, and von Blomberg, in the sober green-gay of a Reichswehr general.

The war minister and all the audience were on their feet when he appeared.

JOHNSON NAMED NEW CLERK OF ELECTION BOARD

Insurance Man Elected Saturday to Succeed M. Boyd Trout in Position

BURGETT NEW CHAIRMAN

Friday at 6:30 p. m. is Deadline for Candidates to File Petitions

Lawrence J. Johnson, W. High-st insurance man, is the new clerk of the Pickaway Co. Board of Elections.

Mr. Johnson was elected Saturday afternoon when he was elected for its organization meeting. He replaces M. Boyd Trout, who succeeded the late S. T. Johnson last year.

Thomas J. Burgett, of whom has served six years on the board member, is the new chairman replacing Mr. G. H. Burgett, whose term expired July 1, 1935. Mr. Burgett was appointed to his position.

Other members of the board are Russell H. Hott, Robert Hott, Democrat.

The move which saw Mr. Johnson elected was a surprise to many. The Pickaway Co. Democratic executive committee, last year elected, had proposed of Chairman George G. Adams, but failed to make a nomination for the clerkship.

27 Names on Petition

Saturday morning, Mr. Johnson obtained a petition, circulated among members of the organization and obtained 27 names on it, many more than enough to make the committee's endorsement. This petition then signed by Mr. Adkins, the chairman, was presented to the board.

Mr. Trout was informed of the action Saturday noon, prior to the organization meeting, and withdrew from the contest leaving the way clear for Mr. Johnson. Mrs. Martha Crist was mentioned as a candidate for the clerkship, but her name was not presented at the meeting.

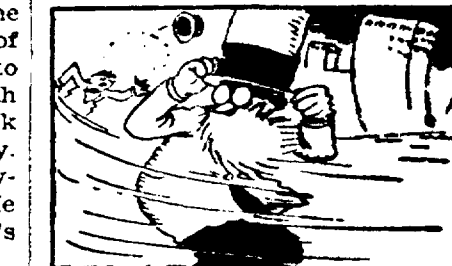

Mr. Johnson has had much experience in election board work, having previously been clerk.

The election board took no action concerning employment of a deputy clerk, and it is understood none will be employed. Harry H. Weill, Republican, has been serving as deputy and being paid by Mr. Trout out of his $40.50 monthly pay as clerk. Mr. Johnson will handle all the clerk's duties, it is understood.

Board Meets Saturday

The new board's first meeting will be Saturday, March 14, to consider legality of all petitions filed prior to the 6:30 p. m. deadline on March 13. Candidates seeking to have their names on the primary ballots for the May election must have their petitions properly filed by that time.

Lawrence J. Johnson, W. Main-st insurance man, is the new clerk of the Pickaway-co Board of Elections.

Mr. Johnson was chosen Saturday afternoon when the board met for its organization meeting. He replaces M. Boyd Trout, who succeeded the late S. T. Rife. Election of Mr. Johnson was unanimous.

Thomas J. Burgett of Orient, who has served six years as a board member, is the new chairman replacing Mrs. G. G. Leist, whose term expired. Orin Dreisbach, Circleville-twp, has been appointed to her position.

Other members of the election board are Russell Imbler and J. Robert Hott, Democrats.

The move which saw Mr. Johnson elected was a surprise one to many. The Pickaway-co Democratic executive committee met last Thursday evening at the call of Chairman George G. Adkins, but failed to make an indorsement for the clerkship.

27 Names on Petition

Saturday morning, Mr. Johnson obtained a petition, circulated among members of the committee and obtained 27 names on it, many more than enough to rate the committee's indorsement. This petition then signed by Mr. Adkins, the chairman, was presented to the board.

Mr. Trout was informed of the action Saturday noon, prior to the organization meeting, and withdrew from the contest leaving the way clear for Mr. Johnson. Miss Martha Crist was mentioned also as a candidate for the clerkship but her name was not presented at the meeting.

Mr. Johnson has had much experience in election board work, having previously been clerk.

The election board took no action concerning employment of a deputy clerk, and it is understood none will be employed. Harry E. Weill, Republican, has been serving as deputy and being paid by Mr. Trout out of his $40.50 monthly pay as clerk. Mr. Johnson will handle all the clerk's duties, it is understood.

Board Meets Saturday

The new board's first meeting will be Saturday, March 14, to consider legality of all petitions filed prior to the 6:30 p. m. deadline on March 13. Candidates seeking to have their names on the primary ballots for the May election must have their petitions properly filed by that time.

Naval Measure to Protect
West Coast; Leaders
Urge Action

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(UP)—A record defense appropriation of more than a billion dollars was urged on congress today coincident with the swift development of political crises across the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans.

Referring to critical events in Germany and Japan, Chairman Glover N. D. Cary, D., Ky., of the house subcommittee on appropriations, handling the $549,000,000 naval supply bill for 1937, said that in "these times it is necessary that our navy and army come up to the absolute minimum as requested by the budget bureau."

Parallels Estimates

He told reporters that his bill closely paralleled the budget bureau's estimates. It will include funds for 333 planes, 12 destroyers and six submarines and other features requested by the budget bureau. He will report the bill next week.

Responsible witnesses from the navy's high command were understood to have told the subcommittee that they were prepared to go ahead with construction of battleships which would be the largest in the world should the London naval conference collapse.

Congressional authorities are delaying consideration of a bill by Chairman Carl Vinson, D., Georgia, of the house naval affairs committee, to modernize 12 battleships pending the outcome of the London conference.

Cary's demand for "minimum defense needs" came shortly after the house approved by an overwhelming majority a record peacetime $545,000,000 army appropriations bill, carrying about $7,500,000 for defense provisions on the Pacific Coast, Hawaii, and the Panama Canal zone. It is now before the senate.

"We have taken into account the situation on the west coast," Cary said. "We think the naval bill will meet its requirements."

WIFE'S EFFORT TO AID CONVICT ESCAPE BEATEN

Folsom Prison Guards Beat
George Hall; Woman to Face Charges

FOLSOM PRISON, Cal., March 9.—(UP)—A bold escape attempt, engineered by the 23-year-old wife of George Hall, condemned Folsom convict, ended today with Hall recovering from a slugging by guards and Mrs. Frances Hall facing charges of smuggling guns into the prison and conspiracy to aid in a prison break.

Warden Court Smith said he would file complaints against the woman in Sacramento today.

The couple's desperate effort to shoot their way to freedom with two revolvers Mrs. Hall carried into California's penitentiary for two-time losers during a Sunday interview climaxed Hall's unsuccessful three-year legal fight to escape the gallows. He is scheduled to hang March 27 for the slaying of State Highway Patrolman Steve Kent and Lester Quigley, Eureka garageman.

Prison officials said Mrs. Hall came to the prison yesterday to visit her husband, as had been her custom for some time.

While two guards kept the couple under surveillance, the woman talked to Hall through a heavy wire screen separating prisoners from visitors in a room in the administration building.

The interview concluded, Hall was being led back to his cell and Mrs. Hall had gone into the office of the warden's secretary when Hall suddenly broke from his guards.

Officials said he dashed back to his wife and attempted to get at a .32 calibre Colt revolver the woman carried in her purse. Guards George Hulett, William Townsend and W. E. Howard subdued Hall by slugging him and overpowered Mrs. Hall.

Concealed beneath the woman's coat they found another gun, a .45 calibre automatic, fully loaded.

Further investigation revealed that she had arrived at the prison in a taxicab driven by Roy Huddleston, who was arrested but denied any knowledge of the plot.

Planned Canada Trip
In the cab, officers found a satchel containing civilian clothing for Hall. In the woman's purse, investigator found $170 in U. S. currency and $5 in Canadian money, indicating the couple planned to flee to Canada.

Russo-Japan Class Grows Acute

TENSION between Soviet Russia and Japan created world apprehension as long-standing friction over borders between Outer Mongolia and Manchoukuo came to a head. Hope of a settlement emanated from Moscow where the Japanese ambassador suggested a frontier commission composed of Mongols, Manchoukuoans, Russians and Japanese to investigate recent border incidents. The Soviet blames Japanese militarists, saying they are trying to provoke incidents to permit penetration into Outer Mongolia in their expansionist program. Soviet officials say that Japanese-Manchoukuoan forces penetrated 12 miles into Outer Mongolia, and that they suffered a series of defeats at the hands of the Mongolians.

SIGNS OF SPRING

TRUE harbingers of that Spring that seems still so far in the future as city streets arouse thoughts of the hard Winter is the group talk on coming fashions and allied subjects already engaging the interest of those who direct such things. A distinguished group has been hard at it in New York and it would be well to bend a listening ear.

It goes without saying that the coronation of King Edward VIII in London will have a vital influence on fashions. Naturally the modes for women will take leadership in all that betides, even to what a delegate to the symposium aptly called "casual clothes." There the well-dressed Englishwoman undoubtedly shines. She is a hardy soul, accustomed to going outdoors in all sorts of weather, mostly climatically far from ideal and casual apparel becomes not at all casual in the strictly grammatical sense. The far-famed English complexion, which in a man would be called ruddy, is said to be due largely to outdoor exercise in the rain, and the clothes needed to meet the emergency are basically woollens.

As already noted, when Winter comes Spring can't be far behind—for the fashion sisters.

NOW THAT IT'S ABOUT OVER

MANKIND has, it is devoutly to be hoped, emerged from the worst of a Winter the like of which has not been experienced for a generation. The cold, snow and sleet taxed endurance and human resources to the utmost. Office workers and others whose occupation kept them indoors had much to be thankful for. They were, for the most part, sheltered from the elements which beat with fury upon the men who toiled outdoors to provide the rest of us with the necessities and refinements of life.

To the men who worked against odds to keep the transportation systems operating; to the policeman on the beat; to the mail carriers, the men who delivered the milk, the food we consumed and the fuel we burned; to the firemen and the deliverymen, and to the newsboy who braved the storm and cold to deliver the paper, doubly welcome when the wind howled in the eaves, mankind is indeed indebted.

WORLD AT A GLANCE

—By— Charles P. Stewart

Not the least cause of Japan's troubles is her public debt. It has doubled since 1925—11 years.

Organized labor soon will make public shocking figures on child labor. Recent figures from New York state showing an increase of 40 per cent since the demise of the NRA are merely a part of the story. Southern states have not yet been heard from.

Labor will assert that not only is child life being sacrificed and living and moral standards reduced, but that child labor is keeping hundreds of thousands of men out of work.

STRONG LOBBIES

Among the strongest national lobbies are manufacturers' fighting against the child labor amendment to the constitution and any other regulation; the shipping lobby, which seems to run the commerce department, so much so that employees who try to put through measures for safety on vessels are dismissed (as recently); the public utilities lobby, which at times seems more powerful than the national government, and which certainly is too much for any state government; and the patents lobby, which works in the hidden labyrinth of the patents department.

Ask any public official who has tried to buck those lobbies.

There is a tremendous society in one of the larger states on sickness insurance, maternity benefits, medical benefits.

Why? strain on private capital to develop conquered land. Treasure does not come without tremendous investments. Great Britain always has had the funds to invest—and wait.

Japan cannot afford to wait. To wait means revolution.

Will Italy find itself in similar straits?

BAD FEATURE

The nations of the world are in a bad way not because they have greatly increased their debt, but because they virtually have poured out their money on non-liquidating projects.

Investment in war machines brings no wealth-producing return. Economic changes that would eliminate the necessity for relief would bring a tremendous return.

But the powers that control the world prefer war and relief.

Thus debts will continue to rise, until people no longer can continue to carry the burden.

ANOTHER LOBBY

On our desk is evidence of another powerful lobby.

It is an attack by a medical

Daily Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

"DON'T CHISEL," FDR TELLS BUSINESS
WASHINGTON—A score of big business men who are members of the Business Advisory Council went to the White House recently to tell the President what they thought the government should do about various economic and financial problems.

One point on which they laid great stress was the necessity of cutting federal expenditures and balancing the budget.

Roosevelt listened good-naturedly and silently until they had finished. Then, for thirty minutes, he gave them a straight-from-the-shoulder reply that left them gasping.

"Government spending to relieve unemployment," he said, "will continue. It will continue as long as such aid is necessary. You might as well make up your minds to that."

"I know some of you gentlemen are very eager to have me retired to private life. Let me give you a bit of advice."

"Every time you lengthen hours or lower wages—as I have evidence is being done—you make thousands of votes for me."

"The worker says to himself: 'It was not that way under NRA. The New Deal is for me. It is my friend.' No, gentlemen, chiseling on the hours and wages of workers is not the way to beat me."

Some of the business moguls admired the President's frankness. Most of them, however, privately expressed resentment at the implication they were "chiselers."

ACTOR ROOSEVELT

Washington and New York soon will see a Roosevelt on the stage singing and dancing in the chorus of a musical show.

The show is the 1936 production of Harvard's Hasty Pudding Club. The Roosevelt is the President's son John, Harvard sophomore.

The audience should have no trouble spotting John. Six feet four inches tall, he is the tallest of the sixteen in the chorus. Furthermore, he will be dressed as a man.

Eight of the sixteen will be dressed as women. John's "female" partner will be George F. Baker, Jr., grandson of the financier, who is a critic of the President.

In the rehearsals that keeps lights burning late on the Harvard campus these nights, John is having a little trouble putting his long legs through the complicated dance routines. When he makes a faux pas, Hasty Pudding's Director Bill Ho!brook yells, "It's no good, Roosevelt; do it over."

When John went out for the show, he faced the competition of about fifty chorus aspirants, but survived first one cut, then another. His voice did more for him than his legs.

Other notables in the show are Marshall Field, Jr.; Gasper G. Bacon, Jr., son of the Massachusetts Lieutenant Governor; Francis Lee Higginson Wendell; William Hunt 11, son of the architect William Morris Hunt; and Ben Welles, son of Sumner Welles, Assistant Secretary of State.

CHAPTER 32

SHERMAN GORDON turned

swiftly on Selwyn Marsh.
"I do sound like a fool, no doubt. Falling head over heels in love with a girl at first sight, a girl I don't know the first thing about. And don't want to. Why, Mrs. Steele cornered me one day to tell me... Well, she intimated that there must be something funny about Thor's taking a job here, and all that. 'How anybody could look into that girl's eyes and not know...'"

"A woman's intuition works overtime, once it gets going," Marsh moralized. "You're right about Miss Dahl, Sherman. I can... He caught himself up short, as if he had said more than he intended."

"Of course I am," Gordon said quietly. "I've an idea that you know more about her than anybody else. And I wouldn't ask you a thing. I don't have to. Just the same, I'm giving you due notice. If I can win that girl, I'm going to. She's the only one who can stop me."

To his surprise there was no sarcastic rejoinder. Selwyn took his pipe from his lips and studied it thoughtfully. When he spoke, it was in an almost-subdued voice.

"Go ahead, son. I'm not stopping you. Or helping you, either."

"Thanks, Selwyn," Gordon gave a relieved smile. "I didn't want you to doubt my intentions. Whatever anybody else around here thinks doesn't bother me. If Thor lodges any complaints, you'll know what it's all about."

"Yes, I'll know."

"Well... I'll toddle on. I'll be around later to take all Babba on for a round of golf. He's Scotch enough to make me look like an amateur. He can shoot, too."

"How do you know?" Marsh asked sharply.

"Why, I was showing him through the old gentleman's gun room one day... regular arsenal, you know. There was an automatic in the bunch, German make, I think. Anyway, it's one that lugged home with his last trip across. Our friend was quite keen about it... seemed to know it was something new. First time I had seen him really enthused, so I dug up some cartridges and suggested we go out behind the barn and try it. You wouldn't believe the designs he put in a tin can at 50 paces."

"Umph. Come here," Selwyn lowered his voice. "You seem to know something about affairs of the heart, Sherman. Do you think Wilma loves that fellow?"

"Yes, I do, Selwyn."

"I wondered. I don't know her well enough to ask her, but I thought she might have taken you into her confidence. I think, maybe, you're right. She's different than ever saw her before. More quiet. I'd say thoughtfully... if it was anybody else, it's queer."

"What is?"

"Why... I can say this to you. We don't know the first thing about her. I think I can't figure that out. I think, maybe, you're right. She's different than ever saw her before. More quiet. I'd say thoughtfully... if it was anybody else, it's queer."

her take a chance, before you'd help her."

"You know I wouldn't. Sleuthing is out of my line, anyway," Gordon smiled. "But I'll give you the address of some people who have done a lot of work for us. They're dependable. If you like, I'll make a contact there for you."

"I suppose they're in the city," Marsh growled. "All right. Let me have the address. I'm going to tomorrow." He pushed a memorandum pad in Sherman's direction and watched him scrawl a name and address hastily. "Thanks. If you don't mind, I'd like to get to work."

"Sure. I'll be seeing you... off."

Marsh put the address in his wallet, then reached down to rub the satiny ear of the dachshund who just then laid his stubby paws on his owner's knee.

"Pfeifferrasse," he observed dryly. "If you have any children running about, my advice to you is to ignore them."

A never-ending source of delight to Thor, the old-fashioned flower garden at Fair Acres. She would have known without being told that it had, for many years, been the pride and care of little Mrs. Myron. The neat paths and prim beds looked like her, Thor thought. Much of her own spare time was spent in its upkeep, and now, in the late summer, it was gay with blooms.

This Sunday morning, she had arisen almost at her usual hour and had gone out to gather fresh flowers for the house. She was seated on one end of a rustic bench beside a heap of asters, sorting them in various color combinations, when she was aroused from her reveries by the sound of a step on the path.

She glanced over her shoulder to find Alec Babba watching her with an amused smile. He was coatless and wearing knickers.

"You are a very busy lady... so early in the morning," he suggested, helping himself to a seat on the other end of the bench. An unlighted cigar was hanging from the corner of his mouth. He took a silver lighter from his pocket and turned it aimlessly in his slim fingers. His gray eyes were fixed on Thor's face, but she felt that they were peculiarly expressionless... giving no inkling whatever to the thoughts that might be in his mind.

"You are up and about rather early yourself, aren't you?" she asked with a slight smile, returning to her task.

"Frightfully. Wilma wanted to golf. I fancy I was a bit optimistic in thinking she would show up. But here I am."

"It is a nice morning for playing," Thor agreed.

"Not bad. Don't you go in for golf?"

"I never have."

"I've been wondering what you do with yourself. I never get a sight of you, except at the table. Do you hide between meals?"

"Of course not. I have my work to attend to."

"Oh, I have various odds and ends to attend to," Thor decided that this particular topic had been discussed sufficiently. She changed the subject by asking: "How do you like this country, Mr. Babba?"

"Well enough." He snapped his lighter and held its flame to the end of his cigarette. "It's no new experience for me," he admitted. "I've been over on this side a good many times before. Have some interests that require looking after from time to time. Rather a bore, but it gives one something to do now and then. Is your home around here?"

"No. I have lived in the west... until rather lately."

"Ah! Out among the jolly old Indians and cowboys. This chap Gordon was telling me you have quite a way with horses."

"I like to ride."

"Can't say that I do. I like a fast car. But I'd rather go around on my own feet when I'm on the move. Horses are okay to bet on... if you're on the inside."

SPRING AND SUMMER frocks for the younger set—the girls in their teens—are not so very different from those of their seniors. Simpler, of course, not showing quite so decided a tendency toward the Chinese, medieval or gay nineties influence which is so apparent in costumes for grownups.

These two frocks for the 'teen age girl illustrate what I mean. The two-piece dress, left, shows a dark print silk crepe—rose on navy. A small, bib-like collar of the printed silk is stitched around the edges. Frilly ruffles standing up around the neck, a la Margot, are as becoming to the juvenile as to their elders, and are frequently used in the popular printed silk frocks—in sheer starched materials.

Scalloped Eggs, Salmon and Noodles—One No. 1 can salmon, four hard-cooked eggs, one-half cup bread crumbs, one cup milk, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth pound egg noodles. Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Make a sauce of the milk, flour, butter and salt. Put into a greased baking dish a thin layer of noodles, and then salmon. On top of the salmon put a layer of sliced eggs, then a few crumbs. Repeat until all ingredients have been used. Cover top lightly with cream sauce and sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, until thoroughly heated and crumbs are brown. Served with a vegetable, this makes an excellent meal.

Cinnamon Sweet Potatoes—Crush finely six sticks of cinnamon candy. Add one-half cup brown sugar. Cook six sweet potatoes, slice into a buttered casserole, sprinkling each layer with the candy-sugar mixture and dabs of butter. Bake until brown.

Place pineapple, sugar, salt and water in double boiler and mix well. When mixture is hot add the cornstarch, which has been mixed with a little water, stirring while adding. Cook 20 minutes, cool. "Come spend happy hours with us!" carol the doll pig, the frisky lamb and saucy duck—cunning cuddle toys which are sure to warm a tiny tot's heart. Why not make the whole gladsome trio for your child, or another's? They're all so easy to cut and stuff, and can be run up quickly from gay scraps you're sure to have on hand. But two pieces are required for each toy, while the eyes are worked on with a bit of embroidery floss.

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Scalloped Eggs, Salmon and Noodles
Stewed Tomatoes
Carrot and Pea Salad
Baked Lemon Chiffon Pie Coffee

This scallop is a tasty Lenten dish and may be varied to suit yourself.

Today's Recipes

Scalloped Eggs, Salmon and Noodles—One No. 1 can salmon, four hard-cooked eggs, one-half cup bread crumbs, one cup milk, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons butter, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth pound egg noodles. Cook noodles in boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Make a sauce of the milk, flour, butter and salt. Put into a greased baking dish a thin layer of noodles, and then salmon. On top of the salmon put a layer of sliced eggs, then a few crumbs. Repeat until all ingredients have been used. Cover top lightly with cream sauce and sprinkle with crumbs. Bake in a moderately hot oven, 400 degrees, until thoroughly heated and crumbs are brown. Served with a vegetable, this makes an excellent meal.

Baked Lemon Chiffon Pie—One baked pastry shell, one orange, one lemon, one-fourth cup of water, three egg yolks, three-fourths cup of sugar, three egg whites, two tablespoons powdered sugar. Combine juice and grated rind of both orange and lemon with water. Heat quickly to boiling. Pour slowly onto egg yolks beaten with the sugar. Return mixture to double boiler and cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Cool. Fold into egg whites beaten stiff with powdered sugar. Turn into pastry shell and bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees, until firm, about 30 minutes.

Angel Food Pie

One cup crushed pineapple, one cup granulated sugar, one cup water, one-half teaspoon salt, three tablespoons cornstarch, two egg whites, one-half pint whipping cream. Place pineapple, sugar, salt and water in double boiler and mix well. When mixture is hot add the cornstarch, which has been mixed with a little water, stirring while adding. Cook 20 minutes, cool. Beat the egg whites very stiff and fold in the pineapple mixture. Place in baked pie shell and cover with sweetened whipped cream.

Cinnamon Sweet Potatoes

Crush finely six sticks of cinnamon candy. Add one-half cup brown sugar. Cook six sweet potatoes, slice into a buttered casserole, sprinkling each layer with the candy-sugar mixture and dabs of butter. Bake until brown.

Something new and popular in spring blouses is the all-pleated model which has a peplum and high pleat collar. Three rows of stitching mark the yoke. Usually it is shown in one color with stitching of contrasting color.

Vallee Presents Stars Of Broadway Stage Hit

Pauline Lord, Ruth Gordon, Raymond Massey Appear Thursday; Crosby to Feature Patsy Kelly

Three stars from Broadway, Pauline Lord, Ruth Gordon and Raymond Massey, will bring a scene from "Ethan Frome" the play in which they are currently appearing, to Rudy Vallee's Variety Hour on Thursday. Frank Fay, William Harrigan and Kay are the other guest stars who will be heard in the Vallee broadcast over a WEAF-NBC network at 8 p.m. Carrying out his policy of giving radio listeners the big scenes from Broadway hits while they are still on the boards, Rudy brings the three headliners of "Ethan Frome" to the microphone. They will do the radio scene and then hurry back to their theatre for the evening performance.

William Harrigan, assisted by a quartet, will bring back to life some of the old Irish songs popularized in New York about forty years ago by his father, the famous producer, Edward Harrigan. These songs, "Paddy Duffy's Cart," "The Babies on Our Block," "The Mulligan Guards" and other similar tunes, were introduced in musical shows by the elder Harrigan who was both an actor and a manager. William Harrigan first appeared on the stage as a child of five, with his father, when they both played in "Rally and the 400." The Harrigan shows, produced annually were a fixture of the New York stage for 30 years and were among the first original American productions. Most plays prior to this had been imported from abroad. William Harrigan is known on Broadway chiefly as a dramatic star but in memory of his father and the Irish patron saint he will recreate some of these old tunes, much beloved in their time by New York's Irish-Americans.

David, Kelly Bing's Guest
Owen Davis has had more of his plays produced on Broadway than any other playwright but he'll turn actor in Bing Crosby's Music Hall program next Thursday. Patsy Kelly, vivacious screen comedienne, is another guest star whom Bing will present in the broadcast over a WEAF-NBC network at 10 p. m.

Davis will not play a part in a drama but he'll be an actor just the same for anyone who is on the receiving end of a Bing Crosby interview turns actor in self defense. Bing will question him about his experiences in the theatre and as the author of a long line of hit plays.

Patsy Kelly, merriest provider for the Hal Roach movie studios, will bring a new comedy routine to the microphone in the Music Hall. In the laugh class she vies with Bob Burns, Arkansas comedian and regular star of the Crosby shows, who will be present again next week.

Jimmy Dorsey, the "Swing King," and his orchestra will do the music for Bing's songs and entertain on their own accounts between the guest star acts.

FIVE BOUTS ON C. A. C. AMATEUR CARD AT 8 P. M.

Foe Still Sought for Warren Lutz; Trophies to Be Presented

With the finals of the Athletic Club amateur boxing tournament scheduled for this evening, C. A. C. officials announced Monday that the event will be an annual affair. The first round of the tournament was a surprising success, and the final matches tonight are expected to attract a record crowd. Additional seats have been placed to accommodate tonight's visitors. The card starts at 8 o'clock. In final matches will be: Don Brannon vs. Ned Thacher. Doc Ferguson vs. M. E. Ebenbach. Shirley Hulsey vs. Paul Beck. Williamson vs. Al Van Fossen. James Seymour vs. Bob Alexander.

A defy has been issued to any amateur up to 135 pounds to meet Warren Lutz, local 16-year-old puncher who won a draw last week by giving Merl Davis a plastering. At noon today no foe had been found for the local pin-setter.

Earl Hussey, promoting the fights, announced Monday that judges will be John Eshelman and Tom Carter, Cleveland, and Referee Bob Terhune, to have the third and deciding vote in case of a tie.

At the conclusion of the fights trophies will be presented the winners, and the title trophy for the organization will be given either the Athletic club or Jackson-twp school. These organizations have several boys in the finals tonight.

Permanent possession of the trophy can be gained by winning the club honor three consecutive years. Medals will be given the fighters.

Patrons of the show will be handed a card as they enter the gymnasium. After the show they will be asked to fill out on the card if they wish the Club to continue its amateur shows as an annual event.

4,500 SEE GIANT STARS IN FINE PERFORMANCES

PENSACOLA, Fla., March 9.—(UP)—Behind the pitching of Carl Hubbell and Hal Schumacher, the New York Giants' second team beat the regulars yesterday, 4-2. Harry Danning's triple decided the game. A crowd of 4,500 attended.

About This And That In Many Sports

Champions Beaten

The old state basketball tournament is going to be one of those knock-down-drag-out affairs with anyone having a chance to win—Akron North, last year's title team, fell before Canton McKinley's fast crew, and Waterloo, also titlist in 1935, was bumped in its tournament by Centerville ***

Sixteen teams are going to the state tournament instead of eight, as usual, so there'll be plenty of activity ***

Riggs Hits Three

Low Riggs smashed out three hits for the Redlegs, Sunday, counting a homer, double and single against the Philadelphia Athletics—The score was 8 to 1 for Cincinnati ***

Ashville's Record

You've got to hand this Ashville high school quintet some roses—The team went clear through the season, turning everyone aside and losing nary a ball game until the second round of the district tournament, Millersport being the victor—Al Kauber's boys swept aside all the county teams during the season and in the tournament, and added Circleville, Groveport and several other aggregations to their list of victims—By graduation Coach Kauber will lose Chuck Young, one of the finest youths this county has ever become acquainted with; Jerry Miller, a real guard; Jim Gray, fast-breaking and scrapping forward, and Rich Hedges, capable substitute—Returning next year will be Walter Gregg and Wimpy Walden to lead the team's onslaughts ***

Look at Officials

Defeat of the New York Celtics by the Columbus Athletic Supply team was surprising to us until we read the names of the officials—Mike "Nose" Mileusich and Bus McMillen were the whistle-blowers, and how an invading team could get a break from that pair we'd like to know—However, the game might have been on the up-and-up, but it looks a lot like the teams will be re-matched and will pack them into the Columbus gym again ***

Dye Popular Choice

Ohio State's basketballers did the proper thing when they elected Tippy Dye as captain of next year's court team—Dye, in our estimation, is one of the outstanding athletes to attend Ohio State in recent years—The diminutive ath-

Ashville and N. Holland Lose Second Round Tilts

Millersport and Canal Winchester Prove too Strong; Athletic Club to Meet Clover Farm Quintet

The basketball season was officially ended today for all Pick-away-co teams, except the Athletic Club, as a result of Ashville and New Holland losing in their second round district tournament frays Saturday.

Ashville lost to Millersport, 22-33, and New Holland fell before Canal Winchester, 20-39. Both winners go into the third round at Westerville next week-end.

The Ashville team was close to Millersport at the half but fell back as the third period started, and dropped clear out of the race when Chuck Young went out on fouls in the fourth session.

New Holland didn't have a chance against the hard-driving Canal Winchester crew.

Lancaster, victorious over the Tigers Friday evening, took it on the chin and on every other part of the anatomy, 18-23, at the hands of Newark.

Remaining in the Central district 'A' tournament this week are Newark, Marion, Columbus Central and Columbus East.

The Athletic club will probably close its season next Friday on the local court meeting the Clover Farms from Columbus. The Columbus crew is a mighty one, boasting some of the cagers in the Capital city and should provide an interesting evening.

The report, published in Columbus papers and widely circulated here, that Clover Farms would meet Waterloo and not the C.A.C. is erroneous.

Grid Drill Starts

Spring football practice was scheduled at the high school this afternoon with Coach Jack Landrum expecting a good crowd to attend the drill—He'll probably keep the aspirants off the regular playing field to give the grass a chance to grow—Prospects for next year are "fair" with good line material reported but a lone of line material reported but a lot of backfield men to be developed ***

lete is a gridiron star, plays a splendid game on the basketball court, and is a real baseball player ***

DYE IS ELECTED COURT CAPTAIN

Mite Guard Consistent Through Strange Season

COLUMBUS, March 9.—(UP)—"Tippy" Dye, diminutive three sport star at Ohio State university, was named captain of the Bucks' 1937 basketball team last night.

Dye, the smallest guard in the Western conference, was one of the standouts of the past Big Ten season. Playing with a team that was highly inconsistent, "Tippy" was the lone member of the quintet to perform steadily throughout the campaign.

His two greatest games were against Indiana, co-champion of the Big Ten, and Notre Dame, recognized as the mid-west's best team.

In the game with Indiana here he held Gunning, forward, to a single basket and against Notre Dame, he permitted Johnny Moir, the Rammer's leading scorer only three points.

Dye was quarterback on the Ohio football team for the last two seasons and is a shortstop on the baseball team.

BOWLING TOURNAMENT OPENS IN INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, March 9.—(UP)—Five weeks of competition among the nation's best bowlers for national titles and $100,000 in prizes opens tonight in a renovated cow barn.

First record for the 36th annual American Bowling congress was an entry list of 2,853 teams. All of last year's winners are expected to defend their titles, although chances of new scoring records are remote.

The amphitheatre of the state fair grounds coliseum, scene of many cattle judging contests, was remodeled for the tournament. The dirt floor was covered by 40 miles of timber, making 32 alleys polished to a glassy finish and separated by flaming red "gutters." New sets of pins, costing $9 each, are stacked 50 feet high in the supply room.

Stalls in an adjoining horse barn were torn out to make room for a 350-foot bar, claimed, the largest in the midwest. Special lighting was installed over the alleys, and experienced pin boys hired.

Indianapolis teams, first to compete, will toe the line tonight after Gov. Paul V. McNutt rolls the inaugural ball.

HOOVER CAPTURES HUGE DARBY CREEK WATER DOG

Wayne Hoover, Jackson-twp, believes he has the granddaddy of all Darby creek water dogs. The hellbender is 20 inches in length and was found by Hoover on a gravel bar after the flood waters receded. The animal clamped down on a stick he placed in its mouth, and Hoover carried it a half-mile to his home and placed it in a tank.

Mr. Hoover brought the hellbender to Fickard's drug store shortly before noon Monday and it will be on display there in a glass jar.

YANK BOSS MAY GIVE ROOKIE CENTER POST

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 9.—(UP)—Manager Joe McCarthy plans to give Joe Dimaggio, highly-touted San Francisco rookie, a trial in center field during the exhibition season. If Dimaggio comes up to expectations, Ben Chapman, now a catcher, may be shifted to left field when he reports.

ECKHARDT DOES WELL IN BROOKLYN UNIFORM

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 9.—(UP)—Oscar Eckhardt, Pacific coast league rookie, has made an impression on Manager Casey Stengel of Brooklyn by his power at the plate. He slammed many drives against the left field fence in yesterday's workout. The only absent dodgers are the two hold-outs, Joe Stripp and Van Mungo.

Brussels sprouts were first cultivated in Belgium.

There doesn't seem to be any ceiling to the rhythmic hops that the talented Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers essay into the stratosphere of entertainment. Critics declared "Tot Hat" was tops, but Astaire, Miss Rogers, Director Mark Sandrich and Producer Pandro S. That old Rajah of Ragtime, Irving Berlin, has written seven new songs to test the vocal excellencies of Astaire, Miss Rogers.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., March 9.—(UP)—Paul Waner, veteran Pittsburgh outfielder, has signed his contract. He arrived yesterday, leaving only Lloyd Waner, who is recovering from pneumonia, absent. The younger Waner is at Harrah, Okla., and may not report for two weeks.

CASHERS OF PENSION CHECKS ASKED TO BE CAUTIOUS

KRINN DECLARES PROTECTION FOR ALL NECESSARY

"Send Person Who Presents Instrument to Bank," Administrator Warns

Merchants and other business people who are called on to cash old age pension checks are being asked by T. D. Krinn, administrator of the Pickaway-co old age pension office in the Johnson building, to make sure of the identification of the persons for whom they cash such checks.

"This is asked primarily as a protection for those who are on the pension rolls," Mr. Krinn said Monday. "Before you cash an old age pension check, be sure you know the person for whom you are cashing it. You can identify the checks because they all have printed on them that they are to be paid from Division of Aid for the Aged funds. The checks all bear on the back a warning to be sure of the identity of the person presenting the check before you cash it."

"Cases have been reported over the state where checks were stolen from the mails or from the rightful recipient, and cashed. In Springfield recently two men were arrested by police and federal operatives, with the aid of pension investigators, and convicted of stealing several pension checks from rural mail boxes. They were given prison terms."

"The best rule to follow," Mr. Krinn said, "is this: If someone you do not know presents an old age pension check to be cashed, refer him to a bank, or tell him he will have to get it cashed by someone who knows him. Thus anyone who possesses a pension check illegally will be unmasked, or prevented from cashing it, and the rightful recipient will be protected."

BRICKS RECEIVED FOR COURT-ST PAVING JOB

The balance of the order is expected this week, officials reported.

Outdoor projects were suspended Monday morning by the weather but arrangements were being made at noon for several to start during the afternoon.

dience, which included all the powers of the country, gave the Nazi salute and a roar of cheers to Hitler as Blomberg rose to speak.

In the mind of every man was the spectacle of black, brown and green-clad German troops marching at the moment along the Rhine—into Coblenz, Frankfurt, Cologne—from which many of them had retreated in heartbreaking defeat 18 years ago.

Blomberg gave "thanks to our leader" for "the unreserved trust he has placed in us soldiers."

"A new era of German history has begun—an era of power and strength," he said.

He emphasized that the Reichswehr's only concern is "the peace of Germany and the peace of the world" but added proudly, that "the Fuehrer has reestablished German sovereignty over the Rhineland, announcing to the German people and the whole world his urgent reasons for the step; we shall not fail him."

Gen. Herman Goerring, Reichstag president, announced a Hitler order dissolving the body March 28 and ordering an election March 29. The campaign began immediately.

An order in the official gazette made effective for the first time the anti-Semitic election laws codified at Nuremberg recently. Jews were forbidden the right to vote, although persons of mixed Jewish and "Aryan" ancestry may do so.

Overwhelming endorsement of Hitler's Rhineland invasion is a foregone conclusion, not only because it saved one of the rawest wounds inflicted on German pride by the Versailles and Locarno treaties, but because there is no organized opposition to Nazi election machinery. Hitler won 88.1 per cent of 43,529,000 votes cast in the plebiscite after the "Blood Purge" of 1934.

HIGHWAY EMPLOYEES MAKING ROAD REPAIRS

State, county and township road workers are making temporary repairs on county roads as swiftly as possible to keep them in fair condition until weather permits permanent work.

Practically all roads have been damaged by recent thawing. Stone and gravel are being placed in deep ruts and many of the township and county roads have been dragged and scrapped. Many of the gravel roads have been transformed into mud lanes by the rain.

The recent reduction on load limits will prevent more serious damage to black top roads, officials believe.

BRACHER OUT OF G. O. P. RACE; TO BE TOWNSENDITE

DAYTON, March 9.—(UP)—Charles A. Bracher of Dayton today announced withdrawal of his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor and revealed he would be an independent candidate for governor in the November election on a Townsend plan platform.

Bracher said he believed "it would be folly to run in the primary."

$50,000 VOTED TOWNSEND CASE

Congressional Inquiry Gets Under Way Next Week

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(UP)—The house accounts committee today agreed to grant $50,000 to conduct a proposed congressional inquiry into the Townsend and other old age pension plans.

Chairman Lindsay Warren, D. N. C., agreed to the request after Rep. C. Jasper Bell, D. Mo., chairman of the investigation committee, and Rep. John B. Hollister, Ohio, ranking Republican on the eight man inquiry board, said that was the "absolute minimum necessary."

Bell said that he hoped to get under way next week with hearings and promised to unearth "startling information." He has employed counsel and plans to take on several undercover investigators.

Representative Henry E. Stubbins, D. Cal., and Martin F. Smith, D. Wash., both supporters of the Townsend plan to grant pensions of $200 monthly to persons over 60, appeared before the committee to protest the size of the appropriation.

They made it clear, however, that they are not opposing the investigation.

German Troops March Again Into Rhineland

EUROPE is tense once more, following the latest denunciation of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany. Acting with smashing suddenness, the Reichsfuehrer sent troops into the "demilitarized" Rhineland, thus scrapping the last remaining clauses of the Versailles treaty.

In one of the boldest diplomatic coups in post-war history, Hitler announced the sensational step in a series of identical notes to the major powers and in a dramatic address to a specially convoked Reichstag.

Even as he spoke his Nazi Reich soldiers were marching into the Rhineland, occupation of which the Versailles treaty had forbidden "forever."

Simultaneously Hitler announced the Locarno treaty had been "violated" by the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact, nearing final ratification in Paris; announced that Germany is willing to re-

enter the League of Nations if it is divorced from the Versailles treaty, and if negotiations are launched for the return of the Reich's former colonies; and offered to enter a 25-year pact of non-aggression with France and Belgium, having England and Italy as guarantors.

Pledging his nation to a course of peace but warning that "the God of War now marches through the world more heavily armed than ever before," Chancellor Hitler proclaimed that his three years of rule have restored "equality" and "full sovereignty" to Germany.

At the close of his address the Reichstag was dissolved, and new elections were called for March 29, as a plebiscite to approve the Hitler regime's record to date and the foreign policy outlined.

$50,000 VOTED TOWNSEND CASE

Congressional Inquiry Gets Under Way Next Week

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(UP)—The house accounts committee today agreed to grant $50,000 to conduct a proposed congressional inquiry into the Townsend and other old age pension plans.

Chairman Lindsay Warren, D., N. C., agreed to the request after Rep. C. Jasper Bell, D., Mo., chairman of the investigation committee, and Rep. John B. Hollister, Ohio, ranking Republican on the eight man inquiry board, said that was the "absolute minimum necessary."

Bell said that he hoped to get under way next week with hearings and promised to unearth "startling information." He has employed counsel and plans to take on several undercover investigators.

Representative Henry E. Stubbins, D., Cal., and Martin F. Smith, D., Wash., both supporters of the Townsend plan to grant pensions of $200 monthly to persons over 60, appeared before the committee to protest the size of the appropriation.

They made it clear, however, that they are not opposing the investigation.

German Troops March Again Into Rhineland

EUROPE is tense once more, following the latest denouement of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler of Germany. Acting with smashing suddenness, the Reichsfuehrer sent troops into the "demilitarized" Rhineland, thus scrapping the last remaining clauses of the Versailles treaty.

In one of the boldest diplomatic coups in post-war history, Hitler announced the sensational step in a series of identical notes to the major powers and in a dramatic address to a specially convoked Reichstag.

Even as he spoke his Nazi Reich soldiers were marching into the Rhineland, occupation of which the Versailles treaty had forbidden "forever."

Simultaneously Hitler announced the Locarno treaty had been "violated" by the Franco-Soviet mutual assistance pact, nearing final ratification in Paris; announced that Germany is willing to re-

enter the League of Nations if it is divorced from the Versailles treaty, and if negotiations are launched for the return of the Reich's former colonies; and offered to enter a 25-year pact of non-aggression with France and Belgium, having England and Italy as guarantors.

Pledging his nation to a course of peace but warning that "the God of War now marches through the world more heavily armed than ever before," Chancellor Hitler proclaimed that his three years of rule have restored "equality" and "full sovereignty" to Germany.

At the close of his address the Reichstag was dissolved, and new elections were called for March 29, as a plebiscite to approve the Hitler regime's record to date and the foreign policy outlined.
